Traditional Turkish Baths KUS-C / KUS-CC

Air-conditioned Coach

Duration: 3 hours

Minimum Participation: 20 persons

One thing not to miss whilst visiting Turkey is a visit to a local Turkish Bath, otherwise known as a hamam. Like the harem, this Roman and Byzantine tradition was adopted and then perfected by the Selcuk Turks. It was not merely a place where believers could fulfill the Islamic precept of cleanliness, but was also a place where one could mingle, socialize and gossip. The Turkish Bath that you will visit today is one of the newest Turkish baths in Kusadasi, located only 4 km outside of the centre of Kusadasi. Upon arrival, you will be taken into the dressing room where you will be cloaked with a pestamal, a colourful checked wrap as well as takunya wooden clogs. From here, you will be taken to the Gobek Tasi, a large round stone which graces the centre of the hararet (baths), where you will warm up for approximately 15 minutes. Afterwards, enjoy a sauna, followed by a rubbing down and then a massage with foam before being taken to a hot steamed bath in order to wash yourself down. After this amazing experience, you will gather in the saloon where you will be given a new pestamal accompanied by a glass of hot apple tea. Before returning to the ship, enjoy free time in Kusadasi to shop for every conceivable item, such as carpets, jewellery, local souvenirs, leather goods and Turkish delights.
